

'RIDLEY' PINOT X THREE, PICCADILLY VALLEY, ADELAIDE HILLS, MURDOCH HILL

2018 | Red Wine

Australia, South Australia

Murdoch Hill

Case Size: 6

The Pinot Meunier gives bright red fruits with a generous up front fruit profile, the Pinot Noir provides exotic spices and a fine acid line with stalky firm tannins. While the Pinot Gris gives aromatic lift and texture to the wine. A very unique wine.

Vinification:

A blend of 60% Pinot Noir 30% Pinot Meunier from a from a very cool South facing vineyard in the higher parts of the Piccadilly Valley, producing grapes with high natural acid and exotic spices. 10% Pinot Gris from a small Lenswood vineyard. Three grapes were fermented separately using a high proportion of whole bunches, spontaneous fermentation and a gentle extraction to produce a delicate style of wine. Each parcel matured in natural French barriques for 5 months before bottling with no fining or filtration, to be enjoyed young and fresh over the warmer months.

Grape Varieties: Pinot Gris| Pinot Meunier| Pinot Noir

Classification: Adelaide Hills | ABV: 13% | Closure: Natural Cork